Maritime Provinces Battered By Blizzard: Scores Perish in U.S.

Worst Blizzard in Years Sweeps Maritimes—Arctic Breath Whips States—Scores Reported Perished

LONDON, Nov. 26.—A terrific gale today buffeted ships and caused minor floods and extensive property damage. Three horses sank off Torbay Bay, Essex, and six men clung to the rigging as the South-east lighthouse effected a perilous rescue.

EDMONTON Forecast—Fair weather, calm.

HALIFAX, Nov. 26.—One death, heavy property damage and crippled communications were counted today in the wake of the worst blizzard to sweep Canada's maritime provinces in years.

Three vessels, one of them a Norwegian freighter, were known to have been driven ashore in the 48-50 mile gale that raged for about two hours early last night. Another, wallowing in lowest seas, tossed in mountainous seas off Cape Canso, N.S.

Theodore W. Reid, Saint John, N.B., lumber operator, died of a heart attack induced by exertion in trying to operate a truck from a snow drift in Carleton Place.

With restoration of communication services it was feared other fatalities would be reported. Three fishing boats were reported being blown out to sea near Nova Scotia's southwestern tip.

ISOBARIC
The town of Shediac, N.B., reported 18 persons homeless when the highest tide ever seen there flooded cellars and swept some dwellings into the bay. High tides at Sydney, N.S., drove three families from their homes.

New Brunswick and southwestern Nova Scotia felt the full force

SIX FISHERMEN RESCUED FROM NORTHERN LAKE

Six fishermen at Slave Lake, Alberta, were rescued after being hours drifting on an ice pan in Lesser Slave River, Friday. It was learned here Saturday, sleigh dogs, harness and nets, valued at $1,000, were taken from the ice cake broke from the shore and later crashed out in the lake. The pan drifted two miles.

Pete Younger and Donald Reite, both of Canyon Creek, were plunged into the lake when a piece of ice broke from the main pan. They clung to the small cake and were rescued from it. On the main pan were Fred Brown, Big George, Steve Lander and Bud Brown of Canyon Creek. Waves were eating at the floe when they were taken off to safety.

Members of the rescue party were Donald Reite, Fred Brown, Harold Irvine and Leonard McKinley and Paul Alexander.

LAC STE. ANNE TEACHERS PLAN CALL WALK-OUT

Unpaid for the month of October and with salary for November coming due, 77 teachers of the Lac Ste. Anne school division may call a 15-day strike to start on December 4. A meeting is being held Saturday at Sanguis for a final decision.

The teachers have no grievance against operation of the schools on the large division system but feel that pressure should be brought to bear on three defaulting municipalities, due to whom their salaries are not paid.

NEW PLAN ON DELINQUENCY IS PROPOSED

Province Appoints Committee To Study Community Farm Proposal

Appointment of a committee of provincial government officials to investigate advisability of establishing near Edmonton and Calgary community farms for delinquent children was announced on Saturday by Hon. Dr. W. W. Crows, minister of health and in charge of relief.

T. R. Blaine, superintendent of the child welfare branch of C. B. Hill, child placing officer of the child welfare branch of the health and relief branch, and E. G. Wood, West-Edmonton district agricultural, have been appointed to carry out the investigation. Mr. Wood is a former head of the Portage la Prairie reform school.

NEAR RED DEER
It is reported that the proposed institution would be on a farm near Red Deer.

According to B. C. Hest of Calgary, president of the association, the proposed plan calls for the sending of all offenders under 18 years old to the school, where they would be under no criminal restrictions. At these schools the children would be near their homes.

Question For Guardians Of Dionne Children To Decide

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 26.—Olivia Dionne, commenting on reports her kidnapped daughters would be shown at the New York World's Fair next year, said today "under no circumstances will the five girls be removed from northern Ontario."

TORONTO, Nov. 26.—Whether the Dionne quintuplets should be exhibited at the New York World's Fair appeared today to be a question for the quintuplets' guardians to decide. Overtures already have been made by officials of the exhibition for an appearance of the five sisters when the fair opens next year.

Premier Hepburn, whose government originally stepped in to establish a guardianship over the quintuplets last night, representatives of the fair had approached him, but he referred them to the guardians. Since then he has heard nothing more of the proposal.

NO OBJECTIONS
Mr. Hepburn said his government would have no objections, if the guardians, including the doctor Dr. Allan Roy Duff, and the father (Olivia Dionne) deemed it advisable. Other guardians are Percy Wilson.

Government House Re-Opening Asked By Royal Society

Edmonton Branch Asks Premier Aberhart To Provide Suitable Quarters For Reception to King and Queen

Declaring that it would "not be seemly" for Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to be "received and entertained in the capital city of Alberta at a private residence or hotel," the Royal Society of St. George, Edmonton Branch, has asked Premier William Aberhart to order Government House re-opened during the royal visit and keep it open as the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor.

A resolution to this effect was adopted at a meeting of the society recently and a copy forwarded to the premier. The letter forwarding the resolution to the premier reads as follows:

To the Honourable Premier William Aberhart:

At a meeting of the Royal Society of St. George the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That a petition be forwarded to the provincial government to re-open Government House for the reception of Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth at their forthcoming visit, for the reason that it would not be seemly for Their Majesties to be received and entertained in the capital city of Alberta at a private residence or hotel. And, having the use and privacy of Government House, it is to be hoped and prayed that Their Majesties will extend their visit to the limit of time at their disposal."

Further, since the business attending to Edmonton merchants by receptions at Government House is extensive, and since the hotel which has received there is much appreciated by the provincial government, the provincial government would deem it necessary to reopen the house as the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor."

JOSEPH SHAW WILL DIRECT UNITY GROUP

Appointment as Council Chairman Effective Next Year

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin
CALGARY, Nov. 25.—Chairmanship of the Alberta Unity Council will be taken over by Joseph F. Shaw, K.C., former progressive M.P. for West Calgary, early in the new year. It was stated in well-informed political circles here Saturday.

He will succeed John L. McFarland, Calgary, who was appointed chairman of the council at a meeting held at Red Deer in November last year.

WILL STEP DOWN
Indifferent health has prevented Mr. Shaw from giving the energetic leadership which the Unity cause adherents expected of him, and he has expressed his willingness to step down from the leadership in favor of a younger man.

Although prepared to relinquish the chairmanship, Mr. Shaw will not divorce himself from the movement. He will continue to act

Colonial Demands Of Nazis May Split Britain Says Churchill

Giving in to Germany's Territorial Demands Would Divide British Government As Asserted Campaigner

HARLOW, Essex, England, Nov. 26.—"The British Empire will be split from end to end if the government yields to Germany's colonial demands and hands over 'helpless native peoples' to the Nazi rule of 'terror and concentration camps,'" Winston Churchill said last night.

"It is quite certain that no such set of measures could be committed without splitting the Conservative Party from top to bottom and what is of larger consequence—dividing the British Empire from end to end," the Conservative veteran—critic of the Chamberlain government—said in a speech here.

"Whereas a new week ago a list of influential people were 'strongly' for granted that the former German colonies on their equivalent would be handed over to Hitler in order to appease him for the time being, now they are being asked to give up the colonies to the Nazis."

"The British Empire is at stake and to give in to the demands of the Nazis is to give in to the demands of the Nazis."

COURT MAKES RELIEF DEBT OF RECIPIENT

City Wins Claim But Loses Suit Under Minimum Wage Act

Setting a precedent in Alberta, His Honor Judge J. L. Crawford established direct relief issued by the city of Edmonton to Thomas H. Logan as a debt to the city and gave judgment against Logan for $371.82. Logan was successful in a wage claim.

The judgment was given on $167.81 relief issued in 1935 under the Town and Village Act and $104.01 issued in 1938 under the Bureau of Relief and Public Welfare Act. Judgment in favor of the city was given on a counterclaim made when Logan sued for wages under the Minimum Wage Act of 1936.

Logan, employed by the city as a night watchman at the airport, from 1935 to February, 1938, when he was dismissed, was awarded $423 on his wage claim, less $231.92 already paid.

The judge found that the plaintiff, under the Hours of Work statute, could only work 1,260 hours during his term of employment and made an additional award of $46 a month for overtime totalling 703 hours.

NORTHERN CANADA WATER AREAS ARE SHRINKING FAST

WINNIPEG, Nov. 26.—Preservation of water areas in Northern Canada is necessary for continued provision of breeding grounds for ducks and the maintenance of the trapping industry. B. W. Curlew, field naturalist for Ducks Unlimited, said here.

Returning from a 3,000-mile airplane survey and census of birds in the northland, Curlew said Canada is losing northern water areas "with the same devastating speed at which we lost them in the south." The survey revealed vast areas of former lake and marsh, now completely dried up.

"Many of the lakes have shrunk by from 25 to 50 per cent in the area shown on maps. The rivers are down and becoming increasingly difficult to navigate."

The naturalist said ducks breed in concentrated areas and the changing water conditions have brought a shift in these areas from season to season.

Explaining the method of computing the number of birds, Curlew said the planes swooped down over the marshy edges of lakes with the pilot and observer noting the various flocks of ducks as they flew.

In large marsh areas flights were made methodically back and forth over the districts and an average per acre taken.

Aeronautics to Be Developed in Saskatchewan

REGINA, Nov. 26.—Greater opportunities for the study of aviation in Saskatchewan will be opened up by the introduction of a new aeronautical department in the engineering division of the University of Saskatchewan.

Young high school graduates with marked ability in aeronautics who have not the money to attend university will be assisted financially under the youth training plan, Downing said.

Saskatchewan is the first university to adopt such a course.

The course will last three years and lead to a degree in aeronautics.

Calgary Urged To Apply For Milk Price Reduction

CALGARY, Nov. 26.—City commissioners have been urged by the civic milk committee to apply to the board of public utilities commissioners for a reduction in milk prices in Calgary.

"We find the set up of milk prices is unfair to all concerned," said the committee report prepared by A. R. M. Weir, chairman.

Milk sells at a quarter and a half in Calgary, a price fixed by the board in 1936.

Coming Out

After a reprieve in Nassau from a surfeit of publicity as New York's No. 1 debutante, Brenda Fraser flew to Miami. She's home-bound for her December debut.

Young Glamor Girl Is Worth Five Millions

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Brenda Fraser, 17-year-old glamor girl of Gotham's elite, learned Wednesday she is worth about $5,000,000.

The pretty grand-daughter of Sir Frederick Watrous Taylor, Canadian banker, learned her inheritance from a trust fund left by her father, the late Frank Duff Fraser.

Mr. Fraser was more than $4,000,000 and a direct bequest, $500,000.

She recently took a ride through the streets of Manhattan for the sake of charity—don a car of ballet from which she waved salutations to the citizenry.

Her mother is the former Brenda Wilton Taylor, the wife of Sir Henry Thornton, widow of Sir Henry Thornton, one-time president of the Canadian National Railways.

She was divorced from her first husband, Frank Duff Fraser, in 1926 after they had been married 10 years.

A clause in Mr. Duff Fraser's will left about $5,000,000 in trust for his daughter on condition she did not live with her mother. The courts subsequently set aside this condition of the bequest.

LEGISLATION TO NULLIFY COURT RULE PROTESTED

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 26.—Council of the St. John's board of public utilities protested today Sir Humphrey Walwyn and the island's council of government against legislation passed by the government early this month to nullify a supreme court decision.

Resolutions expressed disapproval of "the government's drastic action to nullify the judgment of the supreme court of Newfoundland."

It was declared that the judgment had declared him specifically entitled as against the fisheries board.

Recommendation the legislation be repealed was contained in the resolutions.

Holmes arranged to sell a company in Puerto Rico 6,000 barrels of Labrador codfish at $7 a barrel for delivery between Sept. 15 and Nov. 15.

When applying for license to export the fish, he was advised by the fisheries board that the price of $675 for Labrador fish was contemplated and his application was rejected.

Holmes succeeded in having the supreme court direct the issuance of a license but when his fish had been placed aboard ship, he was advised the license could not be cleared because legislation passed that day required a special permit which he lacked.

JAP ORANGE ATTACK FAILS TO DEVELOP

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26.—Police Chief W. W. Foster and a squad of 10 uniformed and plain clothes police officers met Wednesday to meet the Japanese freighter Hye Maru but a threatened anti-Japanese demonstration against the ship's docking failed to materialize.

A. M. Stevens, provincial chairman of the League for Peace and Democracy, said Wednesday the demonstration would be organized to "welcome the first shipment of Japanese oranges to the port this season."

Friday, the league chairman said: "Our boycott will take a different form. I think it will be just as effective."

CATHOLICS WILL AID 3,000,000 U.S. STUDENTS

By T. F. REYNOLDS

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to The Edmonton Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The Catholic hierarchy of the United States, acting under a mandate of Pope Pius XI, has announced an education program for 3,000,000 Catholic students to help make America a democratic citadel "at a turning point in the history of the world."

The program, reflecting a counter-offensive against totalitarian trends in other nations, was announced by Dennis Cardinal Dougherty in a drive to foster the growth of the Catholic church in the United States.

Cardinal Dougherty said the Catholic hierarchy is alarmed at the spread of subversive teaching and action in the United States at proclamations and programs "which if translated into action would destroy all that is just and ennobling in liberty-loving America."

Designed to align the resources of Catholic educational institutions in a drive to foster the growth of democracy, the program carries out the injunction of the holy father to express in a practical letter to the Catholic hierarchy of the United States last month.

Four Arrested On Murder Charge

STURGIS, Sask., Nov. 26.—Nick Prokaski, and Peter Budnik, two Canadian boys charged with the murder of John Budnik, who died from injuries in a fight.

The arrests followed the verdict of a coroner's jury declaring Budnik had been beaten by one or more of the boys.

The boys were taken to Regina to await preliminary hearings.

Cancer Patients Given Neutron Ray Doses From Atom-Smasher

By United Press, Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 26.—A small group of cancer patients yesterday received "doses" of neutron rays from the University of California's huge atom-smasher or cyclotron as a possible revolutionary treatment.

Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, executive director of the National Cancer Institute in Washington, D. C., and Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, professor of physics at the university, emphasized in an announcement that the neutron-therapy treatment for cancer was "purely experimental."

Early results of the experiments are established, possibly after several months or even years. "No additional hope can be offered to cancer patients," said Dr. John Lawrence, brother of Dr. Ernest Lawrence, who conducted actual treatment.

The patients were taken from a list in the university's teaching hospital in San Francisco, brought to Berkeley for treatment, then returned to the hospital for observation.

"The success of the neutron rays in animal experimentation," said Dr. Lawrence, "does not justify any conclusion that they will be necessarily more successful in treating human beings than x-rays."

"Simply stated, we are trying to determine if the neutron rays of the cyclotron are more effective than the x-ray in the treatment of human malignant tumors. There are indications that it is more effective in the treatment of some of the malignancies in the smaller animals, but that is all."

Municipalities Well Used

Municipalities in British Columbia have received the welcome news that the Provincial Government will absorb $140,000 of their relief costs. Hitherto the municipalities have contributed 60 per cent and the Government 40 per cent to the cost of supporting unemployed relief cases. These percentages are reversed with the saving indicated to the municipal taxpayers.

The Government, it is noted, will pay in future, as it has been paying, 80 per cent of the cost of giving relief to employable persons, leaving the cities to provide 20 per cent.

All told, the municipalities of British Columbia appear to be generously dealt with by the provincial authority, more generously than of any other province; whether because provincial income is more ample than elsewhere or because the municipalities are recognized to be less able to bear the relief burden.

Spain Needs Food

There are three million refugees in Spain urgently in need of food, and at least a million in other areas also requiring help. General Franco has raised bread instead of bombs on cities to show their sufferers that his armies are stocked by big granaries and that they may share this abundance by joining his forces. But the legend was too thin to be embraced even by minds blinded by poverty.

Aware of the problem, the United States is sending wheat to both sides, in accordance with their need, by the American Red Cross. The League of Nations also has been asked to help, but thus far has shown its singular genius for running away from responsibility.

By Viscount Halifax speaks on this issue with generosity if not with assurance that relief efforts can be successful. "We are considering," he said, "whether there are any steps which we can take to ensure the safe passage in Spanish territory of provisions destined for distribution to non-combatants by certain approved relief organizations."

Since arms are being shipped to Spain, it should not be impossible to get food to hungry Spaniards, no matter to what political dogmas they adhere. That is one form of intervention that the conscience of the world assuredly may commend.

Pacts Are Not Everything

At least it can be said for the Munich declaration that if the Governments of Britain and Germany respect the spirit of the pronouncement neither will make war against the other unless compelled to do so in fulfillment of obligations to some other country. And that is also the most that can be said for the so-called "settling" of the same matter by the new Franco-German pact. If, as stated, this is of substantially the same nature, the Munich agreement was not a pledge of peace, but only a joint-declaration that peace is desired by the people of Britain and Germany. The Franco-German agreement will mean the same thing, and no more, if it has been drawn on the same lines. But the plainly implied meaning is that peace is also the desire of the Governments and will be their aim.

The worth of a treaty is not so much in what it says as in who signs it. We have had in the last twenty years a series of pacts which bound the nations, including these three, in the most solemn way, and the most specific language to preserve peace unconditionally. Where are these treaties now? They are in the waste basket.

The outlook for peace in Europe is not to be judged by the new pacts, or by any pacts that may be drawn, solely. There has also to be taken into account whether the signers are giving evidence of good faith in other directions. Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier evidently recognize the fact, for they are proceeding to arm as though the agreements had never been made.

Alberta's Debt Problem

The province of Alberta last year paid—or tendered—interest on its debt at the reduced average rate of 2.5 per cent set by statute, amounting to $3,961,011. Unemployment relief expenditure ran to $2,690,783 net. Capital expenditures were made amounting to $1,684,571. All this was paid out of revenue, and there remained $1,083,494 with which to reduce the debt, with nothing paid into the sinking fund for ultimate bond-retirement.

Had full contract interest been paid, the charges would have amounted to approximately $7,750,000. Instead of $1,083,494 left as a balance with which to redeem savings certificates, there would have been a deficit at the end of the year of $2,705,495—an addition of this sum to the interest-bearing debt. Had no permanent road construction or other capital expenditures been made there would still have been a deficit of around $1,000,000. Had no unemployment relief been given, there would have been a deficit of about $850,000. Had no relief been given and no money spent on capital improvements, there would have been left only $1,038,859 with which to redeem savings certificates or otherwise reduce the net debt of $156,000,000 plus.

Here is the other side of the picture. The people of Alberta are more heavily taxed for provincial purposes, per head, than the residents of any other province excepting British Columbia. The per capita provincial revenue of that province runs consistently about 50 per cent more than that of Alberta. The other provinces have made the lowest being Ontario, which collects $10 per head, about one-third the per capita revenue collected by the Government of Alberta last year.

These figures supply the reason for the arbitrary slashing of the interest rates on Alberta's debt and must stand as the justification for it. They explain also why Premier Albert and Hon. Solon Low have been asked to ask for any other opportunity to refund the debt. If the arbitrary reduction was unwarranted, it was made under pressure of a necessity to secure easement in some way. It cannot be charged that the reduction was made in response to a popular desire to avoid a fair weight of taxation—not that it has had that result.

Does anyone imagine the taxpayers of the province, who are now paying—ignoring federal subsidies—$30 per head per year, could be compelled to pay enough more to make up the full interest rates, besides supporting the victims of unemployment distress, building roads needed to make their farming and other occupations productive, and doing anything at all toward debt reduction?

Editorial Notes

Rotary clubs in Italy are to be dissolved by order. That is altogether complementary to the Rotarians, the action being taken because Rotary ideals are recognized to be incompatible with the intolerance of Fascism.

Reviewing the post-war course of events, Winston Churchill said: "None of the victors are vanquished." A member of the British House of Commons having thus baldly stated the fact, it may be permissible to say this is what a good many persons on this side of the ocean have been trying to keep from saying ever since Munich.

Trade of United States With Canada and Great Britain

The announcement of the new trade agreements concluded between Canada and the United States and Great Britain gives the trade relations which have existed between these countries special significance. Trade between Canada and the United States was stimulated during the past three years by the agreement concluded in November, 1935, which went into effect on January 1, 1936, for a period of three years. The new agreement replaces this and further expansion of trade in both directions is anticipated as a result of the new pact.

In 1938, Canadian exports to the United States, according to United States official returns, were valued at $288,000,000, while purchases of United States products totalled $323,000,000—the balance in favor of the United States being $35,000,000. In 1936, the first year of the old agreement was in effect, Canadian exports increased to $376,000,000, the drought situation then existing in the United States, and a rapid rise in American purchases of Canadian wheat, live stock and other agricultural products. Other goods such as lumber, particularly in British Columbia, also expanded their trade with Canada. Canadian purchases rose but not in such great proportion, the total value for the year being $270,000,000. The balance of trade between the two countries practically balanced, the difference being only $8,000,000.

Returns for the following year, 1937, showed much greater gain in Canadian exports to the United States. Canada's total value rising $28,000,000 to $306,000,000. The increase in Canadian sales was $28,000,000 to a total of $306,000,000. The balance of trade between the United States was $111,000,000 as compared with $8,000,000 in 1936. Business recession in the United States, combined with more liberal agricultural conditions, caused a rapid diminution in United States purchases of Canadian products and this trend persisted during 1938. The United States imports of Canadian products during the first eight months of 1938 fell in value to $182,000,000 against $279,000,000 during the corresponding period of the previous year.

Imports from the United States, on the other hand, were well maintained at $323,000,000 as compared with $326,000,000 for the first eight months of 1937. The balance of trade of the United States rose to $161,000,000 for the 1938 period.

Trade between Canada and the United States is of permanent importance in the foreign commerce of both countries. The aggregate value in 1930 exceeded $1,000,000,000, exports from the United States amounting to $559,000,000 and imports from Canada to $442,000,000. During the depression years trade declined drastically but in the nine years from 1930 to 1938 the total average was approximately $1,000,000,000. Exports from the United States at that time averaged $575,000,000 and imports from Canada at $425,000,000. Canada had been accused for too long of being a "gold sink" for the United States. This was more than true in the case of the United States. In each of these years Canadian purchases exceeded United States purchases from Canada, the average for the last five years being $1,100,000,000, or one-fourth of the average total favorable balance achieved by the United States in her commodity trade during the nine-year period.

United States trade with Great Britain does not reach the aggregate value of the former country's trade with Canada, but from 1930 to 1938 averaged $569,000,000, of which exports from the United States accounted for $428,000,000 and imports from Great Britain $141,000,000. This was a large proportion of the export total. From July, 1937, to July, 1938, for example, Great Britain purchased $85,000,000 worth of raw cotton from the United States. This was more than twice as much as was imported by any country. France being the second largest purchaser at $60,000,000.

The total excess of exports by the United States during the nine-year period has averaged $580,000,000. Of this amount $100,000,000 arose from trade with Canada and $287,000,000 from trade with Great Britain. These two countries, therefore, account for the total trade balance which the United States has enjoyed during the period under review.

If the statistics of commodity trade given in the table herewith, told the whole story, the burden of the relationship would bear heavily on both Canada and Great Britain. The large expenditures in Canada by tourists from the United States and the large expenditures in the United States by tourists from Canada, the large balance between the two countries that is generally appreciated. After due allowance is made for tourist trade, it appears that the United States spent more on Canadian goods in each year since 1931 than Canadians spent in the United States. In like manner, on balance, the United States pays large amounts to Great Britain for shipping, insurance and similar charges. An account of the final financial balance between the two countries would give full effect to these figures and would show that the United States is by much more favorable than an examination of the commodity trade alone indicates—Royal Bank of Canada.

A New Economic Charter

Even the most cursory study of the trade agreements into which Canada, the United Kingdom, and the United States have entered will suggest to the business mind of the impartial observer that an excellent job has been done by the negotiators of the three countries who have carried on the long and exhaustive negotiations. The terms of the new working arrangement furnish ample evidence that the spirit of the new trade pact has dominated the negotiators throughout, that such fiscal and quota adjustments as may cause minor inconveniences and temporary loss of revenue to one country have effect compensating advantages under the wider application of the reciprocal business principle.

In so many considerations, of that principle of trade, there is no room for the purely national outlook. In its broadest aspect the agreement must be interpreted as a carefully-revised economic charter under which the two countries, speaking nations, with a combined population of about 190,000,000, will henceforth trade with each other in the most direct, the most comprehensive, yet the simplest effort to remove some of the artificial obstacles which have been seriously interfering with the rational flow of commodities between the countries concerned. It administers the first and most effective

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

Washington engineers a few weeks ago buried in a "time capsule" on the site of the forthcoming World's Fair, certain records about present-day life. It is intended that they should lie there for five thousand years before being opened. But how will the futurians be able to read the records? Until the finding of the Rosetta Stone in Egypt, hieroglyphics and ancient Greek, learned of which, which were the ruling race of two thousand years before. Language is changing more rapidly today than then.

To meet this difficulty, Dr. John P. Harrington, head of the Bureau of Ethnology of the Smithsonian Institute, has prepared a "Key to the English Language." In its twenty pages is compressed the work of a lifetime. Printed on enduring paper, the "Key" is being sent to museums, colleges, libraries, libraries and monasteries all over the world. It is intended to act as a Rosetta Stone for the people of fifty centuries hence—a "Key" to unlock the mysteries of whatever writing and speech records may survive the passage of time.

A very learned Englishman, who happens also to be a member of parliament, stood up in the House of Commons a few days ago to lament the changes that are taking place in the English language since radio and the "talkies" have become so popular. When the word "lapse" is applied to anything, it is usually to a picture.

OUR CHANGING film or a book to a meal we LANGUAGE do not relate, it loses the precise meaning it originally conveyed. Pointing out that "See you" is now commonly used to denote a doubtful affirmative and "Include me out" as a positive negative, Mr. Mackintosh M.P., Ontario member of parliament, wondered whether some future First Commissioner of Works would change the "Aye" and "No" of the House to the "Yes" and "No" of the House of Commons.

The language of Milton and Shakespeare has become so strange as to give the down of the "Yes, we have no bananas" era.

Word historians of the University of Chicago have been engaged for the past eleven years on a monumental work, which will give a complete dictionary of every word and phrase and every new usage of a word, added by Americans to the English language since 1650—the year that the first English settlers came to the New World. They called the James in honor of the English king. It will be a good deal more than a mere dictionary of slang.

TO COLLECT ALL settlers to this continent on AMERICANISM the three little ships that sailed from the east coast.

They called the James in honor of the English king. It will be a good deal more than a mere dictionary of slang.

"If the bankruptcies of England proceed to the length of a universal crash on their part, they will have to be taken into consideration."

The California gold rush added many phrases to our language. We speak today of a "gold widow." It originated in the phrase "California widow" as a wife who had been abandoned to California in search of gold.

A deck of cards became a "California prayer-book" and a bow tie a "California toothpick."

THE GUNRA AND THE GUYA These entomological deaths who have been for the past seven years on the part of all Americans, and a large number of them leading to Mark Twain. He is the largest single inventor or circulator of phrases with an American half-mark on them.

THE GUNRA AND THE GUYA "I used to wake and say 'Hello Central' just to hear the bell ring."

A word like that is catching. It fills a need for pretty colorful description. To the extent of nearly 12,000 references, Mark Twain put new life and movement into the language of his countrymen.

So monumental is the task of searching out origins that the compilers are still 25,000 words and five years away from completion. With a language as full of movement and change, with simple words like "let" having reversed their meaning since Shakespeare's time, what chance is there for men 5,000 years hence being able to read twentieth century English?

Some of it has been jumping all times—the word "boy" who acquired its meaning in the newspaper office some years ago, when I was engaged boys to carry election night returns to the city. Said he: "Is you da guinea wet hides da guinea?"

"See you?"

Religion Day By Day

A SLAVE OF THE PRESS

As a newspaper man, in chains to the press for life, I have to read a great many periodicals. I read papers, magazines, religious weeklies and monthlies—these ceaselessly claim my hours and thoughts. Too little time is left for big books, and for leisurely conversation with friends.

Possible what all else of it is that we are too contemporary. We are "up to date" on too many things that will soon be out of date. We neglect the timeless themes and the wisdom that have survived the centuries. Our forebears knew fewer facts than we know; but they also knew more about really vital things. They got more wisdom from the Book than we get from all of our periodicals.

With all of us getting we would get wisdom, dear Lord—the wisdom which cometh down from above. Amen.

Domestic Relations Clinic

By FRED WILLIAMS

Editor: Bulletin: From the writer's experience over a lengthy period it would seem that there is need for a domestic relations clinic in the community where wives or husbands or children may have sympathetically listened to and proper advice given. Cases arise almost daily where strained relationships exist and if allowed to develop will ultimately result in separation and the break-up of the home. Every possible effort should be made to keep the home intact and many wives, husbands and children could be saved much mental anguish and heartache if they had such a place or person to turn to with whom they might confide and unburden their pent feelings and grief. The city of Toronto and other leading cities have such a clinic. The writer has established what they call a family court provided over by a judge and much official work has been done to bring about proper domestic relations. Perhaps the work of the "Court" might sound too austere for our people and therefore the writer would suggest the institution of a domestic relations clinic to be sponsored by the Local Council of Women and other civic and social service groups.

By-Elections

Editor, Bulletin: Kindly give me space to express my views on recent federal by-elections and their significance to the new Conservative leader, Dr. Mackenzie King.

Mr. Mackenzie King, obviously, no new party leader ever had a better chance of success than he has had in himself and few ever were so better.

Mackenzie was to be the new Tory leader who would lead them out of the wilderness. Mackenzie King, the man, so they said, to revive the faded spirits of the Conservative Party.

The word like that is catching. It fills a need for pretty colorful description. To the extent of nearly 12,000 references, Mark Twain put new life and movement into the language of his countrymen.

Mr. Mackenzie King, obviously, no new party leader ever had a better chance of success than he has had in himself and few ever were so better.

Mackenzie was to be the new Tory leader who would lead them out of the wilderness. Mackenzie King, the man, so they said, to revive the faded spirits of the Conservative Party.

Major and Minor Notes

By JOHN OLIVER

Installation of a Hammond Electric Organ in Canterbury Cathedral, England, gives this amazing instrument the seal of approval—if any were needed—of the highest and most exacting clerical circles. Word of installation of the Hammond at Canterbury has been recently received here. More than 200 churches of Great Britain have installed these instruments which have revolutionized the whole organ industry. In gaining admission to Canterbury Cathedral the Hammond has had to overcome much criticism and has been subjected to the severest tests. But it has proved itself capable of carrying out all requirements. The pipe organ will not be discarded with the two instruments will be used to provide a musical background to the musical part of the highest possible caliber.

Possibilities of the Hammond organ were amply demonstrated by the recital given here last winter, at the Empire theatre, when the tremendous power, delicacy and varying phases of tone color were brought out. At the recital here last week, by Knut MacGregor, the accompaniments provided for some of the numbers gave a demonstration of the excellence to which the instrument can be put in this capacity.

Musical circles turned out in large numbers on Friday evening for the initial performance of the Edmonton Civic Operatic Society at Plunko's opera. Martha, Mrs. J. H. Carmichael, conducted and details of the presentation will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The next major musical event will be the production by the First Presbyterian church choir, of Handel's oratorio Samson, Henry Atack, organist and choristmaster of the church, will conduct. A string orchestra of about 25 pieces, with organ, will accompany the oratorio. Solists will be drawn from the church choir itself.

On Friday, December 9, End Stantish, cantata of the Metropolitan Opera Association, will present the second concert in the current season's Celebrity Series being sponsored by the Women's Musical Club. She appears on the roster of Metropolitan artists this year and has been assigned important roles for her appearances.

John Barbieri and the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra are continuing to pack Carnegie Hall with their regular and special concerts. Mr. Barbieri, the subject of a lengthy article in a New York daily newspaper recently did much to set right the public's attitude on conductors. Without saying so, he did a lot to dispel the notion that a conductor is the source whence comes the music and to convey the impression that those who indulge in hero-worship of conductors are worshipping at the wrong shrine.

Mr. Barbieri stated that, "When I wave my stick in front of a music, our first-born player, there is produced a ravishing music. But when I wave my stick in front of a music—nothing happens—nothing at all." Therefore, Mr.

Barbieri says that without musicians of the highest quality, a conductor cannot produce great music and that a conductor is no better than his orchestra—or than his orchestra will let him be.

True some conductors can make the music greater by their command of the orchestra or bringing out of certain features of a score. But in the last analysis it is the jazzmen, the Platon, the Bellini and others that make the orchestra great. It is by reason of the individual and collective brilliance of the New York Philharmonic that it stands unassailable among the orchestras of the world. Call whom you will the greatest conductor, but as Mr. Barbieri says, it is only when the stick is waved in front of a jazzman that ravishing music results.

If the charging rate of an automobile generator is set too high, it overloads the battery, reducing its life.

Queer Patterns in Germany

By DR. H. L. STEWART

Professor of Philosophy, Dalhousie University, and Editor of Dalhousie Review

IT jutting the last anti-Jewish law, the Nazi press has quoted as an admirable example of ancient tradition. "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." This rule is judged excellent for as it goes, but not nearly adequate for the purpose of the Third Reich. In taking vengeance upon Jews, a thousandth eye or tooth are to be held as not more than the equivalent of one "Aryan." But Bishop Butler once aptly raised the question whether it was possible for nations to be individuals all of a sudden to go mad?

Another curiosity in this part of the week's news is the parallel which has occurred and which the Nazi organizers must have expected to occur in everyone with historical knowledge watching this hideous scene. Attack upon Jews was the recurrent pattern in Russia, and everyone understood the sort of situation which this suggested. It is the "program" was an expedient available when the administration became alarmed by the threat of revolution. It was an outlet to divert popular rage by providing an alternative victim. This when one heard that Jews in Russian cities or villages were again being massacred, it was a fair guess that industrial discontent was causing unusual anxiety to the secret police. Fear is the great provocative which government craves; and, as the epidemic rages, those strong measures so characteristic of weak men.

Mr. Beverley Baxter, who has travelled so much of late in Central Europe, and whose eyes are so continuously open, has told us that there was but spring, summer and autumn of growing discontent in Germany, which the forward movement against Austria, Czechoslovakia, was meant to avert. The "Hymn of Hate" which the Teutonic mind must be revived in some form as national psychosis presents a problem to its management. No sense of humor, it would seem.

But it has passed far beyond a sentimental content, when one reads of the climax to which mechanized hatred has now arrived. Nazi cities are in the attempt to cite parallels from the past.

GERMAN NAZIS AID JEWS TO RAISE MONEY

Open Glorified Pawn-Brokerage Business To Convert Possessions

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—German Nazis today opened a glorified pawn-brokerage business to help persecuted Jews raise funds to pay the $200,000,000 fine imposed for the persecution of Jews in Paris, by a Jewish vote in the Reichstag.

The first installment is due Dec. 31.

Minister chamberlain of the Reichstag, Dr. Goebbels, announced that the pawn-brokerage business would be open to all Jews in the Reich.

Dr. Goebbels said that the business would be open to all Jews in the Reich, and that the first installment of the fine would be due Dec. 31.

Open Glorified Pawn-Brokerage Business To Convert Possessions

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—German Nazis today opened a glorified pawn-brokerage business to help persecuted Jews raise funds to pay the $200,000,000 fine imposed for the persecution of Jews in Paris, by a Jewish vote in the Reichstag.

The first installment is due Dec. 31.

Minister chamberlain of the Reichstag, Dr. Goebbels, announced that the pawn-brokerage business would be open to all Jews in the Reich.

Dr. Goebbels said that the business would be open to all Jews in the Reich, and that the first installment of the fine would be due Dec. 31.

JEW BOY SAYS HE WAS DAZED AS SHOT FIRED

Killer of German Official That Made Nazis Wild, Puzzled

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Hermann Grynszpan, 17-year-old Polish Jew who fired the shot that set off Germany's latest anti-Semitic drive, told a Paris magistrate Friday he was in a state of hypnosis when he killed secretary, Ernst vom Rath.

He spoke in a hoarse, broken voice, and his hands trembled as he told the court that he had been ordered to kill von Rath.

The youth, a refugee from Germany, was reported to have appeared dazed and extremely nervous during the closed hearing.

After the hearing, Grynszpan was committed to a psychiatric hospital for observation.

The hearing was held in secret, and the public was excluded.

Grynszpan's defense attorneys argued that he was a victim of the Nazi regime.

The court is expected to reach a verdict in the coming days.

The case has caused a great deal of controversy in Germany.

The youth's actions have been widely discussed in the press.

The case is seen as a test of the German judicial system.

The youth's defense team is made up of prominent lawyers.

Indians Craved Liquor, Pay Rotten, Reminisces Old Mounted Policeman

LONDON, Nov. 25.—James Fullerton, oldest survivor of the Royal North West Mounted Police, says there was no romance in western Canada police work in his day—it was plain hard work.

It's a Pipe

The "traders" worked at night and we usually had word from the Indians themselves that they were "off," he continued.

A patrol of five or six would follow them into the country and hold them up while we searched them for arms. One of the first things we did was to search for bottles of alcohol.

Pains In The Back

Tell of deranged kidneys

There is a great deal of talk about the back these days. It is a common complaint, and one that is often overlooked.

The back is a very important part of the body, and it is often the first to show signs of trouble.

Deranged kidneys can cause a great deal of trouble, and it is important to know the signs.

One of the first signs of deranged kidneys is a pain in the back.

This pain is often described as a dull, aching pain, and it is usually located in the lower back.

Other signs of deranged kidneys include a frequent need to urinate, and a change in the color of the urine.

If you have any of these signs, it is important to see a doctor at once.

Deranged kidneys can be treated, but it is important to catch them early.

There are many ways to keep your kidneys healthy, and it is important to know them.

One of the best ways to keep your kidneys healthy is to drink plenty of water.

Water helps to flush out the kidneys, and it is important to drink enough of it.

Another way to keep your kidneys healthy is to eat a healthy diet.

A diet that is low in salt and fat is best for the kidneys, and it is important to know what to eat.

If you have any questions about your kidneys, it is important to ask a doctor.

Deranged kidneys can be a serious problem, but they can be treated if caught early.

It is important to know the signs, and it is important to see a doctor at once.

HIGHER WAGES FOR BAKESHOPS ARE ANNOUNCED

Second Increase in Three Months Reported in Baking Industry

Keeping pace with increasing prospects and indicating that the depression is "in the rear" is the announcement made Saturday by C. Simmonds, secretary of the Alberta Bakers' Association, that a new, higher schedule of minimum wages has been adopted for all employees of the baking industry within a 15-mile radius of Edmonton.

This is the second raise within the past year and comes on top of a 10 per cent increase in wages in the past three months ago.

The announcement will benefit approximately 1,000 bakers and their families.

Employers are held at regular intervals to discuss working conditions and pay.

FARM PRODUCTS MAINTAIN LEAD FIGURES PROVE

Butter Trade Show 1937 Per Cent, Increase Over 1937

Alberta dairy production for 1938 is maintaining its lead over 1937 figures, according to figures released Saturday. Showing an increase of 10.6 per cent for the first 10 months as compared to the corresponding period last year, butter production to the end of October totalled 26,184,511 pounds, while for the month of October production was 2,303,312 pounds. This latter figure is an increase of 8.3 per cent over October, 1937.

Main reason for this increase, officials state, is the fact that weather conditions in the province, despite weather changes have resulted in a surplus of milk which will produce a surplus of butter.

Postal Service Is Now Preparing for Yuletide Business

Christmas may be a season of rejoicing and merry-making to the general public, and of hand-making and prosperity to the businessmen and merchants, but to Santa Claus, the postman, and the post office, it is just one more headache after another. But they figure it's worth it at that, because of the Yuletide business.

Tough Senior

Eskimos Away

THEY TALK to not around the town these days. Just about everywhere, calls to enter the town these days. Just about everywhere, calls to enter the town these days. Just about everywhere, calls to enter the town these days.

It seems to be a tough business and has even more than a hint of his native drill can come. He talks from old Eskimo and he may have a weakness for guitars and lances, but no one has ever found him in a soft mood inside a ring. He's hard enough there to have qualified for a job as top sergeant with Villa's hard-bitten mob of guerrillas.

Ordinarily, Edmonton can't pay the sort of money needed to bring Martinez here, but Los Angeles is his headquarters now and California is still in the throes of football which means that it is an old hand at the game.

Garcia's Gallant Closing Drive Fails

Hammering Henry's Forward Gearing Fighting Style Too Much for Filipino—Garcia Badly Cut Up

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Nov. 26.—Gearing only to a forward speed that never let up, Henry Armstrong did a hand-carving job on Cefern Garcia's face for 11 rounds last night and then fought back against the Filipino fighter's closing rush to retain his world welter-weight championship by a 15-round decision.

The little Brown Bomber from Los Angeles, spotting his rival 12½ pounds in this first defence of his 147-pound crown, chopped both of Garcia's eyes with vicious short swings and never gave the challenger a chance to take the pace.

Armstrong also came out of the opening war with a damaged hand. His left thumb was all most twice its normal size, and in spite for the physician to examine immediately.

By an odds it was the fighter of Armstrong's experience and skill that was the victor in this fight.

FACES
BEAUTY SHOWS!

COPY, 1938 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

FOR DOWNRIGHT UGLINESS, THE AFRICAN WART HOG, WITH ITS WARTS, WILD MANE AND TUSKS, COMES CLOSE TO FIRST PRIZE.

THE PROBOSCIS MONKEY, OF BORNEO, WEARS A NOSE THAT IS ANYTHING BUT CLASSICAL.

MOTHER NATURE IS KIND / A HORNED LIZARD NEVER SEES ITS OWN FACE.

THE FACES OF SOME BATS SUGGEST A REASON FOR THEIR PREFERENCE FOR NIGHT FLYING.

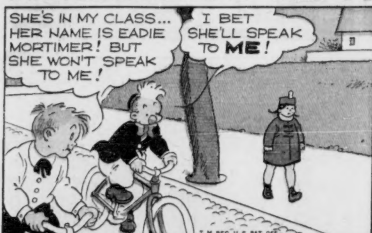

THE SEA ELEPHANT HAS A FACE THAT APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN LIFTED ... AND DROPPED.

ONE GLIMPSE OF A HORNBILL'S FACE... AND ONE CEASES TO WONDER AT THE MALE'S HABIT OF SEALING UP HIS WIFE IN A HOLLOW TREE.
